

Project manager

The Project Manager coordinates the various company departments to guarantee the successful outcome of the project and works to complete the contract furnishing project within the deadlines, the quality standards and the budget contractually agreed upon.

The position entails the independent management of contractual clients relations, coordination and management of the team of persons required for the implementation of the project both on site and at the headquarters, constant and continuous monitoring of all phases of implementation of the project – from drawing to production, from logistics to installation and final testing -, continuous monitoring of the work progress and respect of budgets (both for purchasing and sale), quick decision making and prompt execution.

The position requires a Master Degree in Engineering or similar; minimum three years experience in the same position in companies working on commission basis; advanced level of written and spoken English and at least another foreign language; strong leadership skills; good organisational and methodological skills; availability to short but frequent visit on site in Italy and abroad.

[POS. A]