

Site manager

The site manager will be responsible for the managing of the sites for the implementation of turn-key furnishing projects worldwide. The position requires previous experience in the management of civil works and installation of contract furnishings sites of vast dimensions and high technical complexity with; management of the contractual and economic relations with the client, including the preparation of work progress and claim reports; relationship abilities and human resources managing capabilities on site; advanced knowledge of spoken and written English and possibly other languages; advanced knowledge of Office software and of the main technical software commonly in use in the sector; medium to long term permanence on site.

[POS. D]