

Saga Spirit of Discovery Papenburg

Germany

ID: SMC Design
Period: 2019
Client: Meyer Werft

Spirit of Discovery, built in Papenburg at the Meyer Werft shipyards and first new cruise ship of the luxury British company Saga Cruises, is a small-sized vessel designed to meet the taste and needs of a selected over 50 public.

With a contemporary, sober and elegant concept designed by the London-based SMC design studio, the Spirit of Discovery offers a warm and welcoming atmosphere, almost familiar, thanks to the informal furnishings in pastel tones enriched by refined artworks disseminated all over the public areas. Interna was called to implement the complete fit-out of three areas: the Britannia Lounge on deck 12, the Gym on deck 13, the Laundrette on decks 8 and 10.

The project, first one completed by Interna with the Meyer Werft shipyards, was successfully carried out and the works for a second project, the twin ship Spirit of Adventure, are already underway and the vessel will be launched in 2020.
